

Fuel Management Services From Ryder®

CONTROLLING FUEL COSTS NOW SAVES YOU MONEY DOWN THE ROAD.

Fuel costs are a big part of a fleet's operating expenses – often as much as 30%, depending on fuel prices. But fuel savings is just one way Ryder Fuel Management Services can help your business. We'll also perform inspections, report problems and do whatever is necessary to keep your fleet on the road.

Better Service helps your fleet run.

Along with lower costs on fuel at our 550 locations across the nation, Ryder attendants perform multi-point inspections, report potential problems, check with drivers and arrange maintenance services to prevent costly downtime.

Flexible and effective solutions.

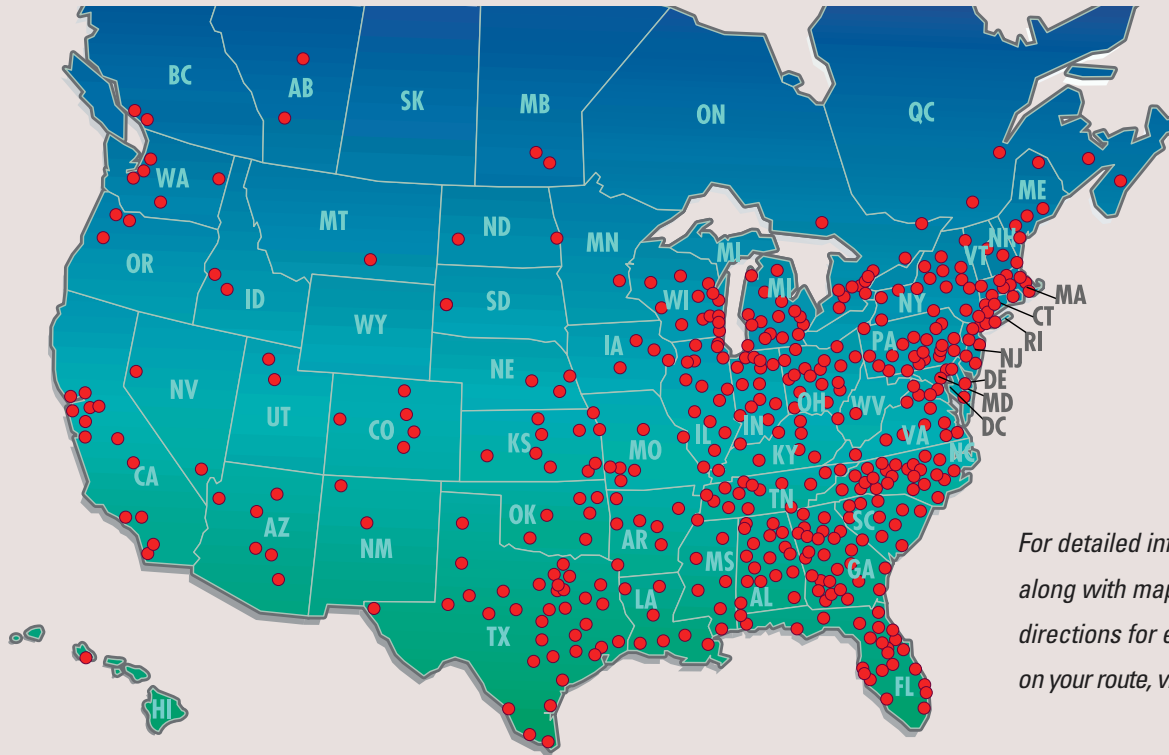

In addition to full-service fuel, we offer bulk fuel for on-site tanks, including tank monitoring and management. We also provide fuel risk management products and consultation services, making Ryder your one-stop resource for all your fuel needs.

Multi-point inspections keep fleets rolling.

Each time drivers pull in to a Ryder fuel location, an attendant performs multi-point inspection, reports potential problems, checks with drivers and arranges for any maintenance and service needed.

Multi-point inspections include:

- Clean windows, windshields, and mirrors.
- Check headlights, brakes, identification and turn signals.
- Check tire condition and pressure.
- Clean trash out of cabs.
- Check refrigeration oil and coolant site glass, if applicable.
- Visually inspect vehicle exterior.
- Check oil level.
- Inspect engine compartment for loose or damaged parts, coolant level and wiper fluid level.
- Initiate corrective action for identified problems.
